

Military Budget Spaghetti Dinner

Where Do Our Taxes Go?

The military budget continues to rise dramatically every year - while our budgets continue to shrink. It becomes harder and harder to pay for food, rent, clothing, education, and health care.

The military budget uses up 61.4% of our whole federal budget. This is expected to go up to 72.1% in 1987! (The amount of the budget spent for "unimportant" things like education, nutrition programs, foodstamps, and education loans is only 17.9%, and it keeps going down).

On June 1, we will get together to talk about our taxes and the military budget and what we can do about it. We will have interesting speakers, entertainment, and a good spaghetti dinner. Join us!
